ICF International Awarded $2.5 Million Contract to Increase Construction of ENERGY STAR® Qualified Homes in Massachusetts

July 2, 2007

FAIRFAX, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--July 2, 2007--ICF International (NASDAQ: ICFI) today announced it won a $2.5 million new contract to implement the New Homes with ENERGY STAR® Program in Massachusetts. The program is part of a statewide initiative to accelerate construction of homes that qualify for the ENERGY STAR rating. The program also actively promotes installation of energy-efficient appliances and solar photovoltaic, or PV, in construction of qualifying affordable housing.

The contract is for 12 months, with the option for an additional 24 month extension, and was awarded through the company’s subsidiary, ICF Resources, LLC. It was awarded by a consortium of sponsors. They are the Bay State Gas Company, The Berkshire Gas Company, Cape Light Compact, GasNetworks, KeySpan Energy Delivery, Massachusetts Technology Collaborative, National Grid, New England Gas, NSTAR Electric, NSTAR Gas, UNITIL, and Western Massachusetts Electric.

"ICF International is very pleased to provide the strategic marketing and technical expertise to help our clients maximize the potential of the ENERGY STAR program in Massachusetts," said Michael Mernick, a senior vice president at ICF and expert in energy efficiency. "The program sponsors are committed to working with the residential new construction industry to build more energy-efficient homes. The bottom line: lower electric bills for Massachusetts consumers and a decrease of greenhouse gas emissions."

Under the contract, ICF offers training and technical assistance to Massachusetts homebuilders who build to ENERGY STAR performance specifications. Additionally, ICF develops communications strategies to help market the program and energy efficient products to customers as well as to promote participating homebuilders.

ICF International (NASDAQ: ICFI) partners with government and commercial clients to deliver consulting services and technology solutions in the energy, climate change, environment, transportation, social programs, health, defense, and emergency management markets. The firm combines passion for its work with industry expertise and innovative analytics to produce compelling results throughout the entire program life cycle, from analysis and design through implementation and improvement. Since 1969, ICF has been serving government at all levels, major corporations, and multilateral institutions. More than 2,500 employees serve these clients worldwide. ICF’s Web site is www.icfi.com.

This document may contain “forward-looking statements” as that term is defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995—that is, statements related to future—not past—events, plans, and prospects. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties, and other factors that may cause our actual results, levels of activity, performance, or achievements to be materially different from any future results, levels of activity, performance, or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. In some cases, you can identify these statements by forward-looking words such as "guidance," "anticipate," "believe," "could," "estimate," "expect," "intend," "may," "plan," "potential," "seek," "should," "will," "would," or similar words. You should read statements that contain these words carefully because they discuss our future expectations, contain projections of our future results of operations or of our financial position, or state other forward-looking information, and are subject to factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those anticipated. For ICF, particular uncertainties that could adversely or positively affect the Company's future results include but are not limited to: risks related to the government contracting industry, including the timely approval of government budgets, changes in client spending priorities, and the results of government audits and investigations; risks related to our business, including our dependence on contracts with U.S. Federal Government agencies and departments and the State of Louisiana; continued good relations with these and other customers; success in competitive bidding on recompete and new contracts; performance by ICF and its subcontractors under our contract with the State of Louisiana, Office of Community Development, including but not limited to the risks of failure to achieve certain levels of program activities, termination, or material modification of the contract, and political uncertainties relating to The Road Home program; uncertainties as to whether revenues corresponding to the Company’s contract backlog will actually be received; the future of the energy sector of the global economy; our ability to attract and retain management and staff; strategic actions, including attempts to expand our service offerings and client base, the ability to make acquisitions, and the performance and future integration of acquired businesses; risks associated with operations outside the United States, including but not limited to international, regional, and national economic conditions, including the effects of terrorist activities, war, and currency fluctuations; and other risks and uncertainties disclosed in the Company’s filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These uncertainties may cause ICF’s actual future results to be materially different than those expressed in the Company's forward-looking statements. ICF does not undertake to update its forward-looking statements.

CONTACT: ICF International Media Contact:
Polly Shannon, 703-934-3144
pshannon@icfi.com

SOURCE: ICF International