

Commonwealth of Massachusetts Selects ICF International to Perform IT Services Statewide

July 28, 2008

Contract Enables Firm to Help Agencies Implement Better, Faster, and More Cost-Effective Solutions

LEXINGTON, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--July 28, 2008--The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has selected ICF Consulting Services, L.L.C., a subsidiary of ICF International (NASDAQ:ICFI), as an ITS33 statewide contractor, providing information technology (IT) professional services that include applications/systems design and development; software and systems integration; geographic information systems (GIS) development and support; and IT planning across a wide range of tools and platforms.

As an IT solutions provider, ICF is among a select group of pre-qualified companies from which Commonwealth departments can choose to perform specific IT engagements. ICF has offices in Boston and Lexington, Massachusetts, and has been providing strategic consulting services and technology solutions to local, state, federal, and corporate clients since 1969.

"ICF is committed to supporting the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and we value this opportunity to further our long-standing relationship with the state," said David Cogar, ICF senior vice president and IT expert. "Support provided by ICF will help the Commonwealth and its agencies develop and implement better, faster, and more cost effective solutions by taking full advantage of the latest technologies."

Through this contract, ICF can provide to Massachusetts agencies its cutting-edge IT professional services along with world-class, subject-matter expertise in the areas of energy and climate change; environment and infrastructure; health, human services, and social programs; and defense and homeland security. To learn more about the menu of services available through this contract vehicle, visit <http://www.icfi.com/MAITS33>.

The overall objective of the ITS33 contract--a blanket purchase agreement--is to enhance the performance, quality, timeliness, and efficiency of Commonwealth departments and their programs.

"With the depth of our knowledge and expertise, ICF can offer mission critical support across the spectrum of services to the Commonwealth," said Kevin Palaia, an ICF principal and manager of its Lexington, Massachusetts office.

About ICF International

ICF International (NASDAQ:ICFI) partners with government and commercial clients to deliver consulting services and technology solutions in the energy, climate change, environment, transportation, social programs, health, defense, and emergency management markets. The firm combines passion for its work with industry expertise and innovative analytics to produce compelling results throughout the entire program life cycle, from analysis and design through implementation and improvement. Since 1969, ICF has been serving government at all levels, major corporations, and multilateral institutions. More than 3,000 employees serve these clients worldwide. ICF's Web site is www.icfi.com.

Caution Concerning Forward-looking Statements

This document may contain "forward-looking statements" as that term is defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995--that is, statements related to future--not past--events, plans, and prospects. These statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties, and other factors that may cause our actual results, levels of activity, performance, or achievements to be materially different from any future results, levels of activity, performance, or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. In some cases, you can identify these statements by forward-looking words such as "guidance," "anticipate," "believe," "could," "estimate," "expect," "intend," "may," "plan," "potential," "seek," "should," "will," "would," or similar words. You should read statements that contain these words carefully because they discuss our future expectations, contain projections of our future results of operations or of our financial position, or state other forward-looking information, and are subject to factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those anticipated. For ICF, particular uncertainties that could adversely or positively affect the Company's future results include but are not limited to: risks related to the government contracting industry, including the timely approval of government budgets, changes in client spending priorities, and the results of government audits and investigations; risks related to our business, including our dependence on contracts with U.S. Federal Government agencies and departments and the State of Louisiana; continued good relations with these and other customers; success in competitive bidding on re-compete and new contracts; performance by ICF and its subcontractors under our contract with the State of Louisiana, Office of Community Development, including but not limited to the risks of failure to achieve certain levels of program activities, termination, or material modification of the contract, and political uncertainties relating to The Road Home program; uncertainties as to whether revenues corresponding to the Company's contract backlog will actually be received; the future of the energy sector of the global economy; our ability to attract and retain management and staff; strategic actions, including attempts to expand our service offerings and client base, the ability to make acquisitions, and the performance and future integration of acquired businesses; risks associated with operations outside the United States, including but not limited to international, regional, and national economic conditions, including the effects of terrorist activities, war, and currency fluctuations; and other risks and uncertainties disclosed in the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These uncertainties may cause ICF's actual future results to be materially different than those expressed in the Company's forward-looking statements. ICF does not undertake to update its forward-looking statements.

CONTACT: ICF International
Lindsey Litton, +1 571-265-1472

llitton@icfi.com

SOURCE: ICF International